

Revilix logo project guidance

- Revilix is a software and services company that provides an innovative online tool for law firms and corporate legal departments to support them with specialized business services like printing, record retrieval, court reporting and IT support.
- We have developed a platform where customers (lawyers) can connect with vendors who specialize in these support services and set up projects. They manage everything through the Revilix platform and pay invoices as well
- You can incorporate typical legal graphics like gavels or scales of justice in the design, but they cannot be the main focus or main idea. This is a business services tool, not a law firm. Somehow combine the idea of “legal” and “business services” and “marketplace”
